

WEDNESDAY 02.11.16

MANAGING CONTRACTORS IN THE NEW WORLD

Is your organisation searching for better ways to lessen the risk posed by contractors? If so, please join us for an informative thought provoking evening with some of NZ's leading experts in contractor and PCBU management.

PRESENTERS

Helen Parkes,
Cosman-Parkes

Safety Star: the performance review that digs deep

Tim Barry,
Beca

PCBU Management in Practice

Mark Beech,
Holland-Beckett

PCBU Management under HSWA 2015

Greg Dearsly,

NZISM National Manager
HASANZ & Accreditation

Karen Davidson,
WorkSafe NZ

PCBU Management: The Regulator's perspective

Followed by a Panel Discussion

YOUR PRESENTERS:

Helen Parkes is a consultant with international experience in a wide variety of environment, health and safety roles as an inspector, auditor and manager. She works with government and private sector organisations and specialises in health and safety leadership, strategy and governance. Helen is an independent member of the Health and Safety Governance Committees for the NZ Police and MBIE, and a full member of the IOSH networks Governance Committee. She is a Chartered Safety Professional and is tertiary qualified in Public Health, Environmental Health, Health and Safety and Maritime. When not working, Helen can be found undertaking risky activities such as mountain biking, skiing or mountain running in Arrowtown.

Tim Barry is a Senior Associate Health and Safety Advisor and provides Beca's clients with extensive experience in development and implementation of HSE risk management strategies. Tim has provided Health & Safety leadership of large scale civil engineering and construction projects, including most recently MacKays to Peka Peka (M2PP) an 18km four-lane expressway that will take State Highway 1 along the Kāpiti Coast and is the first of the Wellington Northern Corridor projects. M2PP separates local and highway traffic and results in safer and shorter trips to and through the Kāpiti Coast - with local and national benefits.

Mark Beech joined Holland Beckett in May 2012 and has extensive trial experience at all Court levels. He has particular expertise in commercial and employment disputes and is a specialist in health and safety in employment. In addition to his trial work, Mark also has an interest in alternative dispute resolution and regularly acts as both a mediator and arbitrator. He is currently the Deputy Chairman for the Resolution Institute, an Australasian wide, multi-discipline organisation for practitioners who specialise in dispute resolution. Mark is also a mediator for the New Zealand Domain Name Dispute Resolution Service.

Greg Dearsly is National Manager of the NZISM and Managing Director of First 4 Safety Ltd, a health and safety consulting business which he has been running for 5 years. His business aims to help customers achieve a safer workplace through a range of consultancy services and products by using a practical approach which brings together health and safety policy and practices so they can work in a business, not get in the way. Prior to becoming self-employed Greg spent 15 years working in various health and safety related roles with Waste Management NZ Ltd (subsequently Transpacific Industries) culminating in a 5-year period as their National HSEQ Manager. Greg is a member of the Institute of Directors and NZISM's representative of the HASANZ Leadership Committee.

Karen Davidson is the Chief Inspector, Central Region Assessments for WorkSafe New Zealand. Karen is passionate about health and safety, having been involved in Government and Health and Safety for the last 16 years as an Inspector and in senior Management. She led WorkSafe's Operational implementation of the Adventure Activity Regulations, and is a member of the programme team implementing the new Health & Safety at Work Act 2015. Her port-folios include Safer Farms, the Work-Related Health Strategy, Maruiti – WorkSafe's Maori Strategy, Safer Journeys and implementation of the Hazardous Substance Regulations.

TAURANGA YACHT CLUB

90 Keith Allen Drive
530pm – 8pm, Registration & Networking from 5pm

NZISM Members: Free

Non-member: $20

Non-member special: 3 for $50

PAYMENT & RSVP

Please follow the link below for RSVP & Payment to secure your place:

<http://www.vhnztraining.co.nz/event?id=1916>

The number of cash sales on the evening are subject to venue capacity